Wall Street Journal: 31 Million skilled trade jobs will be vacated by baby boomers by 2020.

The "Silver Tsunami" sweeps our industry as the older generation retires, creating need for the next generation of workers.. But, where are they? HCCA is seeking out organizations with eligible individuals for hire.

This dinner meeting will host a panel of experts providing options to solve the impending employment challenge for our industry.

The Panel of Experts

Featuring VA Chief Workforce Development Advisor: Megan Healy

Secretary Megan Healy serves on Governor Northam's Cabinet as his Chief Workforce Development Advisor. As the Commonwealth's highest ranking workforce officer, she oversees a range of regional, state, and federal programs that connect Virginians to the skills, training, and opportunities they need to thrive in the 21st century economy. In addition to her partners within government, Secretary Healy works closely with Virginia's labor and business communities to identify and fill vacant jobs in high demand sectors including IT, healthcare, and energy.

Having started her career as science professor at Patrick Henry Community College in Martinsville, Secretary Healy keenly appreciates how education can change lives and communities. Prior to joining the Northam administration, she served as Virginia's first Director of STEM-H under Governor McAuliffe before returning to the Virginia Community College System as Assistant Vice Chancellor for Academics. Secretary Megan Healy is a proud product of Virginia's public schools, holding a bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech, a master's from Virginia Commonwealth University, and a doctorate from ODU.
